Good afternoon,

Thank you for sending this to me Don. Your recommendation to notify dispatch when this occurs is spot on. If we don't know it's happening, we cannot respond. Feel free to send me anything of this nature that requires enforcement of the county code or law to me.

In the meantime, you'll see that I have included the patrol sergeants in this response to be aware that a weekend presence is requested. I am also going to create a frequent patrol request through dispatch.

Sincerely,

Amy

Thank you for the speedy response Don!

The group that has set this ball in motion this last year is the AA group "Life's a Beach" which meets Saturdays and Wednesdays at 8:30 am.

While I am all for self help and recovery efforts, there are several gentlemen that have aggressive dogs that stalk people, such as myself, at every encounter. They tend to stay as a group until the afternoon.

After 15 years, we no longer get out of the car at Port Williams. I haven't seen law enforcement in over 3 years at Port Williams.

Marine Drive and the coastline to Port Williams are part of an important family cleansing drive that we started back when taking care of my elderly parents. They have passed and we came here for our own mental health.

It's sad that this push to reduce our law enforcement has made leash laws unenforced, as well as multiple other laws.

Just send someone on the weekends please. You will see for yourself. If you have a loose dog, you'll think it's the best dog park on the west coast.

Best wishes,

Robin

Robin,

We are sorry that your recent experiences at Port Williams have been unpleasant.

County Code (C.C. 23.03.070 Animals. 1-5) stipulates that pets must always be on a leash less than 8' long. They shall not disturb the peace, and owners are responsible for cleaning up all pet waste from all parklands and beaches and placing it into an approved waste disposal container or otherwise removing it from parklands. County Parks Staff will be reminded to keep an eye out for non-compliance.

We recommend contacting the Clallam County Sheriff's Office immediately if you feel threatened.

Please help! We have been enjoying the cleansing beauty of Port Williams for over 15 years. The last 2 years, dogs off leash have taken over the beach. I have been stalked twice by aggressive large pit bull mix dogs and had to yell repeatedly to the owners to call the dogs off. Port Williams is often unenjoyable. I happen to be sitting here now and 4 separate cars pulled up and all have dogs running off-leash.

Fortunately, we're seeing minke whales and lots of cormants and gulls, but would have enjoyed a little walk too.

I realize you guys are busy, but Port Williams has gone to the dogs. Please help! It's too important to the community to just make a bad dog park.

Hello Parks Admin,

Thank you for sending this Amendment to the Master Plan, it is much appreciated. As a native of Washington and an avid outdoor recreationalist, I applaud your efforts to expand these resources. Unfortunately, the Parks and Facilities Department has move at glacial speed in providing these resources in keeping with the growth of the state population. If you look at available parks for recreation and campers, most of them were created in the 70's or before and few if any have been added. It's a sad story for those wanting to camp and enjoy the outdoors. It would be interesting to look at the money spent on administration of existing along with planning, as opposed to actual acquisition of public lands and development of parks for camping and overnight stay. My guess would be about 95% of the money has been spent on admin, and 5% on development, hence leading to a stagnant parks recreation status.

My point here is mainly, let's take a good hard look at current parks usage and resource income they provide and realize this very profitable for the state and could largely be self-funding with the right development and establishment of recreational parks for camping along the waterways.

Thanks for listening and trust we may see more parks for camping in the near future.

Your truly,

Jody,

Attached below is a map of the Salt Creek Recreation Area. The short answer is yes; there are some scenic views of the Sea Stack*; see below.*

From existing day-use parking areas, paved trails less than 50 yards away will provide you with a view. I would not recommend following the trail down the stairway. It is a steep climb out. I have placed a star roughly in the area of the best view. Good Luck, Be Safe, and Thanks for Visiting!

Hello Jody,

Expanding on what Donald said previously. If you park by campsite 67 there is a walkway from there out to the Tongue Point viewing area. You can see the Sea Stack from there and there are three memorial benches to sit at and enjoy the view.

Have a wonderful day and if you have any further questions while you're here, feel free to contact myself or any other park staff and we'll be happy to assist you any way we can. I live on site here at the park and am available most days except Sunday and Mondays.

2024 Amendment to the Clallam County Comprehensive Parks and Recreation Master Plan

Once per year, the Clallam County Parks Advisory Board may consider amending the existing Parks Master Plan. The link below is a draft of the 2024 amendment to the Clallam County Comprehensive Parks and Recreation Master Plan. The focus of the 2024 amendment is on updating dates, figures, and analytics.

2024 Amendment to Parks Master Plan

Feel free to review the draft and provide input at web_parks@clallamcountywa.gov. Your assistance is vital to planning, developing, and managing Clallam County parks. Thank you for taking the time to assist the county.

The basis of my “provide input” is this amendment needs to include changes that have been presented and discussed for some time now in recent years. It is illogical and inappropriate with times-a-changing to “wait” for an full revision; that is the reason for having the amendment process in the first place.

My three changes the advisory board needs to consider and address are:

- Analysis for creating a new county park at the previous Lake Aldwell WDFW parking and boat ramp parcel of land, accessed by county road, the property quick claimed back to the county, all located within the confines of the Elwha Project Lands/Federal landownership that has the potential option for additional acreage transferred to the county as an interest in the disposition of those lands per the Federal act that authorized acquisition by the Federal government. Such analysis should take a perspective for additional acreage needed to establish a dispersed camping opportunity that aligns with the intent of the Federal acquisition and accommodates a key aspect of the county’s shoreline management plan for public access to water resources (Elwha River). Upon such analysis, a concept plan for what needs to take place and the purpose of the park be developed to include funding sources to conduct such planning and to implement the plan.
    - To kick the can down the road to some future Park Master Plan revision jeopardizes the potential for developing a State (county sub agent of the State) interest in the disposal of the Elwha Project Lands.

- Eagle Point Property (Lake Crescent) Change designated statement to some level of development. Suggested pathway to access waterfront and determine feasibility of installation of a picnic table for day use (from highway parking and water sports takeout)

- Pillar Point county park Analysis, plan, capture campground options for this park. Pursuit of funding options was introduced during the initial phase of this amendment; however the inclusion in this amendment has not updated the goal of the plan to be able to seek such funding for whatever level of consideration has been given to the campground idea.

Following sections at a minimum need to be addressed in this amendment:

Chapter III, Page 28 regarding Eagle Point

Chapter III, Page 32 regarding Pillar Point

Chapter III, Page 46 regarding correct ownership in these locations; something that wasn't accomplished at the last 10 year revision.

Chapter IV, Page 7 regarding Eagle Point and Pillar Point

Chapter IV, Page 15 regarding Pillar Point

Chapter IV, Page 16, section L This is where at a minimum a future Lake Aldwell county park should be included in this amendment; to signify what has been submitted to date under CC Policy 463.

My submissions for this part of the Park's plan process as was offered through the use of a survey through 1 March 2024 and also additional comment to this email address.

Subject: 2026 Comprehensive Parks and Recreation Master Plan Timeline Update

The target for implementation of the 2026 Clallam County 10-year Comprehensive Parks and Recreation Master Plan is the Spring of 2026. To lead the effort, the county has earmarked $120,000.00 in the 2025 budget year of the county's five-year capital plan for engaging the services of a consultant. The final cost of the effort will be subject to possible grant opportunities, contract requirements, economic conditions, and forecasts for the '25-'26 calendar years.

The Consultant Request for Price (RFP) will be developed in July, with BOCC submittal in August. Selection will occur in September, and the contract will be awarded in October 2024 (pending final budget approval).

At the April 2024 Parks Advisory Board Meeting, County Staff will formally request a 7-person ad hoc Master Plan Committee to focus on the effort. "The Parks Master Plan" Committee will be comprised of 2ea. Parks Advisory Board Members (one will serve as committee chairperson), 1ea. Trails Advisor Board Member, 1ea. Member, Marine Resources Committee, and 3ea. at-large members with emphasis on individuals from the west end, northwest coast, and east side.

Furthermore, County Staff will be represented by those from the Department of Community Development (DCD), Roads, Information Technology- GIS, Parks, Board of County Commissioners, and others as necessary.

The Parks Master Plan ad-hoc Committee, with support from county staff, will develop a timeline for activities over the balance of 2024. Activities will include the 2016 Master Plan review, community outreach, etc., in support of the committee's efforts. The links below provide guidance and directions.

4.1 Procedure

Upon the expiration of the existing 10 year "Parks Master Plan," the Park Board will prepare and approve a new plan covering the next 10 year period.

Staff will prepare a draft Parks Master Plan, if feasible, or ask the Park Board to consider hiring a consultant to prepare the draft if funding is available.

Once the draft "Parks Master Plan" is complete, the Park Board will schedule public meetings or use other methods to collect input. Examples include hosting meetings in the east, central, and west areas of the County and/or posting the proposed plan on the Internet with a comment response form.

Subject: RE: Parks Master Plan Advisory Committee selection
Attachments: 2026 Comprehensive Parks and Recreation Master Plan Timeline memo 2.12.docx

I am checking in with the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners to ensure there isn't any specified formality to inviting/appointing individuals to an ad-hoc committee for our project. Once that is done, I will respond with specific directions/counsel. I am also delighted to host a Teams Call at that time.

A slightly updated document (changing March to April for commencing the project) outlines the general organizing and proceeding process.

Hi Don,
Peter and I are interested in participating in the selection process for the Committee membership that will help guide our 10-year Plan Update. We're initiating a meeting with Cathy Lucero, since she expressed interest, but before we do, perhaps we should chat with you about your thoughts on this process.

Also, I expect you can advise us how to proceed with thoughts on how to select the other members, given that we will want to involve the entire Parks Advisory Board, but also knowing they will appreciate some initial input from us.

Can we set up a zoom call sometime this week with you, unless you plan to be in Sequim? I'm available anytime except Monday and Thursday mornings. Peter can chime in with his unavailable times and we can choose a time, place and method.
Thank you,
Anna

Subject: RE: Procedure for forming an Ad-Hoc Committee to assist the Parks Advisory Board

Don,
I'm not sure on this one. I know we have other board and Committees that form subgroups/Ad-Hoc committee to work on different tasks. We don't normally do resolutions through the BOCC for this. For example: HHS might form a group to review and make recommendations on funding requests.

I've added Dee to this email to see if he has anything to add. This might be a different group where we need to form by a Resolution. I'm not sure.

Sorry I'm not much help on this.

Scope of Work

The following are examples, replace with specific needs and wants.

Internal Assessment and Project Administration

- Provide the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board, Technical Advisory Committee, and/or Steering Committee with a presentation of your approach to the planning process and provide [X number of] progress reports.
- Co-present approach to Master Plan along with community staff to Elected Officials and provide [X number of] progress reports.
- Participate in progress meetings with the community's Project Manager as often as necessary, but not less than once per month until the final plan is approved.
- Supply the Project Manager with at least one (1) copy of all completed or partially completed products as deemed necessary by the Project Manager at least three (3) working days before each progress meeting. The Project Manager shall schedule the meetings, as necessary, at key times during the development of the Master Plan.

Community Engagement

- Identify, describe and implement a comprehensive strategy and methodology for community involvement in this Master Plan development process.
- Review existing engagement documents conducted by the park and recreation department or other departments to compile available information about community needs. Summarize and identify gaps in data.

- Provide well-organized and directed activities, techniques and formats that will ensure an equitable, inclusive, open and proactive public participation process is achieved. These methods should solicit quality input from as many people as possible, including under-resourced populations and users and non-users of the services and facilities.
- Act as professional facilitators to gather specific information about services, use, preferences and any agency strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats.
- Provide written records and summaries of the results of all public process and communications strategies that can be shared with the public.
- Help to build consensus and agreement on the plan and if consensus is not possible, provide information for informed and equitable decision making for the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board, Technical Advisory Committee, and/or Steering Committee.

Resource and Data Collection

- Conduct analysis that considers the fair and just quantity, distribution, inclusivity, condition, cultural relevancy, connections and proximity of parks, green space, programs, recreation centers and services. Evaluation criteria should be based on the expressed values of the community and focus on improved health and environmental outcomes.
- Provide an assessment and analysis of the park and recreation department's current level of programs, services and maintenance in relation to present and future goals, objectives and directives.
- Compile an inventory and assessment of the existing parks, trails, green space and facilities in Geographic Information System (GIS). Compare to national benchmarking tools.
- Provide a community-wide statistically valid community needs assessment survey on recreation and park programs and facilities. The return rate should accurately represent a sampling of the population, including vulnerable populations, so that an analysis can be segmented by race, gender, age and other demographic groups.
- Review and interpret demographic trends and characteristics of the community, using information from the Comprehensive General Plan and other regional and local sources.

Implementation

- Develop an action plan that includes strategies, priorities and an analysis of budget support and funding mechanisms for the short-, mid- and long-term for the park system, green space, trails and recreation programs and services. The action plan should prioritize strategies by their level of impact on social, health and environmental outcomes.
- Prioritize recommendations for needs regarding land acquisition, and the development of parks, trails, green space and recreation facilities.
- Prioritize recommendations for maintenance, renovation and operations of parks, trails and recreation facilities.
- Recommend collaborative partnerships and other solutions to minimize duplications or enhance opportunities for collaborative partnerships.
- Identify areas of service shortfalls and projected impact of future trends.
- Provide useable and workable definitions and recommendations for designated park and green space with acreages and parameters defined as appropriate.

- Develop recommendations for operations, staffing, maintenance, programming and funding needs.
- Provide a clear plan for development of programming based on demand analysis.

Development of Final Plans and Supporting Materials

- The Master Plan must include written goals, objectives, policy statements, a financial and action plan that articulate a clear vision and "roadmap" and model for the park and recreation department's future.
- A summary of existing conditions, inventories and system-wide metrics, distribution metrics, and population demographics and outcome metrics. Refer to "System-Wide Metrics" in the Resource Guide
- Charts, graphs, maps and other data as needed to support the plan and its presentation to the appropriate audiences.
- [X number of] meetings with [key stakeholders] for required adoption of the Master Plan.

All proposals should include the following information:

- A Letter of Submission that includes the name, address and telephone number of the person(s) who is representing the firm.
- Background on the firm and its experience in preparing Master Plans for public agencies, as well as engagements involving communities that have characteristics similar to the community.
- A narrative that presents the services the firm would provide detailing the approach, methodology, deliverables and client meetings.
- Identification of the personnel to be assigned to this engagement, including a résumé of related experience and estimated number of hours per person.
- A timeline for preparation and implementation of the Master Plan and its components.

WAC 365-196-440 Parks and recreation element. (1) Requirements.

(a) The park and recreation element of the comprehensive plan must contain at least the following features:

(i) Consistency with the capital facilities element as it relates to park and recreation facilities;

(ii) Estimates of park and recreation demand for at least a ten-year period;

(iii) An evaluation of facilities and service needs; and

(iv) An evaluation of intergovernmental coordination opportunities to provide regional approaches for meeting park and recreational demand.

(b) The requirement to include a parks and recreation element is null and void until sufficient funds to cover applicable local governments costs are appropriated and distributed at least two years before the due date for the periodic review and update required in RCW 36.70A.130(1).

(2) Recommendations for meeting requirements.

(a) Consistency and integration with other plan elements. Counties and cities should pay particular attention to consistency with the land use element, approaches to protecting critical areas and conserving natural resource lands, and identification of open space corridors and lands useful for public purposes. Planning policies and implementing regulations in each of these elements should complement each other to achieve adopted community goals.

(b) Visioning process. Counties and cities should start with a visioning process. This process should engage the public in the process of identifying needs, evaluating their satisfaction with existing recreational opportunities, and developing goals to guide the development of the parks and recreation element.

(c) Establishing level of service standards.

(i) The visioning process should be used when establishing levels of service for the parks and recreation element. Select levels of service or planning assumptions that reflect local priorities.

(ii) Methods used to establish levels of service should reflect community goals, and may be adapted from approaches recommended by the Washington state recreation and conservation office or the National Recreation and Parks Association; facilities and services. Level of service standards should reflect local priorities.

(iii) Level of service standards should focus on those aspects that relate most directly to factors influenced by growth and development, to allow for counties and cities to more clearly identify the impact on the demand for park facilities resulting from new development.

(d) Evaluation of facilities and service needs.

(i) Counties and cities should ensure consistency with the land use element when identifying existing and future public facilities and services.

(ii) Counties and cities should prepare an inventory of all existing park, recreation and open space lands, and related services. The inventory should describe the location, size and type of each facility or service, its current condition and capacity, and its intended service area. It should include a description of the park and recreation facilities and services of other private and public entities, including state park and recreation services.

(iii) Counties and cities should estimate demand for parks, open space and recreational services. Estimates must be for at least a planning period of ten years, and jurisdictions should consider a planning period that matches that used for other comprehensive plan elements (e.g., twenty years). In preparing estimates, factors that should be considered include, but are not limited to:

(A) Population forecasts and other demographic projections;

(B) Levels of service selected for each type of facility or service to be provided;

(C) User information and participation rates from current facilities and programs;

(D) Surveys or other means of assessing community priorities for park and recreational services;

(E) National and local trends in recreational demands and services;

(F) Facilities and services provided by other private or public entities; and

(G) Review of statewide recreation plans, assessments and recreation trends made available through the department, the Washington state department of fish and wildlife, the Washington state department of natural resources, the recreation and conservation office, and the state parks and recreation commission.

(e) The parks and recreation element should identify future facilities and services needed to meet the estimated demand for parks, open space and recreational programs, consistent with levels of service or planning assumptions and the projections for distribution of growth in the land use element. Consistency with the capital facilities and land use elements should be ensured when identifying existing and future public facilities and services to meet the estimated demand. The parks and recreation element should provide for an integrated parks, recreation and open space system. The system should consist of a complementary set of parks and open spaces that, considered together, meet the needs of a full range of community interests.

(f) Opportunities for intergovernmental coordination.

(i) When preparing the parks and recreation element, counties and cities should review other local, statewide, and regional recreation and land use plans to identify any future facilities that may help in meeting the future demand for parks and recreation facilities.

(ii) Counties and cities should evaluate opportunities for intergovernmental or public/private partnership approaches to meeting regional demand for park and recreation services including, but not limited to:

(A) Joint facility use agreements or contracts;

(B) Interlocal agreements for land acquisition or facility construction to serve region-wide needs;

(C) Contracts with private service providers;

(D) Formation of a single, large regional service provider such as a park and recreation district (chapter 36.69 RCW), park and recreation service area (RCW 36.68.400 through 36.68.620), or metropolitan park district (chapter 35.61 RCW); and

(E) Partnerships with nearby state parks and recreation facilities and services.

(g) Strategies for achieving adopted goals.

(i) Counties and cities should prepare strategies for achieving the adopted goals, policies and objectives, and for meeting the future facilities and service needs. Strategies may include:

(A) Developing needed facilities and programs;

(B) Coordinating intergovernmental efforts to provide needed facilities and programs; or

(C) Adopting development regulations that require provision of needed facilities as a condition of development.

(ii) When creating plans for new park facilities, counties and cities should develop site selection criteria to enable strategic prioritization of acquisition and development opportunities.

(iii) Strategies for financing must be consistent with the financing plan in the capital facilities element. If a local government intends to adopt impact fees as a strategy, it must identify those facilities as necessary for development and should identify them in:

(A) The parks and recreation element;

(B) A separate parks plan; or

(C) In the capital facilities element.

(iv) Counties and cities should evaluate if the identified strategies are sufficient to meet the adopted levels of service. If not, counties and cities should use the priorities set in the visioning process to realign the level of service standards with available resources.

(v) A county or city should also develop protocols to monitor and evaluate the parks and recreation element. These protocols should be consistent with the policies adopted in the capital facilities element regarding reassessment. See WAC 365-196-415. The protocol should include plans to monitor the community's changing recreation needs, evaluate progress toward implementation, and adapt to new information, such as changes to plans of other public or private park and recreation service providers.

Subject: Salt Creek Recreation Area Voice Communications Project- Update

County Parks personnel and Bill Hughes, Park Board, met with Steve Gregory, Richmond Two-Way Radio to request assistance incorporating a radio repeater with existing county staff radios at Salt Creek Recreational Area.

Mr. Gregory laid out a plan to provide test equipment to determine the final project needs and formal pricing. This portion of the project was completed on February 22nd.

While this project has no specific budget, initial budget projections suggest that implementation isn't entirely cost-prohibitive. We should know by late March 2024 if this can be accomplished this spring.

Subject: Park Signage- Three Waters and Eagle Point
Date: Thursday, February 8, 2024 10:21:00 AM
Attachments: image001.jpg

The action below has been started to follow up on the repeated requests to install signage at Eagle Point and, more recently, Three Waters County Parks. Both park properties have been designated as "Undeveloped." The below actions are hopefully in line with the spirit of the designation. Staff search for codes, policies, restrictions, etc., that prevent the installation of signage. It appears that there is none.

Eagle Point - a work order to design, construct, and install an 18" x 24" sign has been issued.

Three Waters- a work order to design, construct, and install an 18" x 24" sign has been issued.
